The Daily Courant.

Saturday, May 28. 1720.

London, May 28.

Yesterday arrived the Mail from Holland of Tuesday.

Petersbourg, May 13.

THE Ice on the River Neva going off on the 22d past, the Czar went on board one of his Ships to pass over to the other Side, being saluted in his Passage with the Discharge of the Artillery of the Fortress. The first Festival of Easter was celebrated on the 28th likewise with the Discharge of the Artillery, and his Czarish Majesty was complimented on that Occasion by the Ambassadour of Poland, and other Foreign Ministers. On the 3d Instant, Prince Galizin, President of the Chamber of Finances, gave a splendid Entertainment to the Czar, the Polish Ambassadour, and the Secretary of the Embassy, with the chief Persons of the Russian Court. On the 4th, there was another Entertainment at the House of Count Golofkin, the Great Chancellour, after which, the Czar, with the said Polish Ambassadour, and the rest of the Company, went on board a Vessel built after the Manner of a Chinese Ship, and called the Transport, where a Collation was prepared for them. On the 5th his Czarish Majesty went to Cronslot, to take a View of the warlike Preparations which are making there and in the Neighbourhood. During the Czar's Absence the Polish Ambassadour had his third Conference with the Russian Ministers. The Czar returned hither on the 8th Instant, and on the 12th a new Man of War of 96 Guns was launched in the Harbour in the Presence of his Majesty and the whole Court, who together with all the foreign Ministers were afterwards splendidly entertained on board the new Ship.

Stockholm, May 22. On the 17th Instant, the four States of the Kingdom paid Homage to the King with great Solemnity. As soon as the Ceremony of the Coronation had been over, all the Officers were ordered to repair to their respective Posts, and his Majesty set out himself on the 20th for Gaffle to take a View of the Camp on that Side and of the Posts along the Coast. The Assembly of the States is like to last about a Month longer. By the new Form of Government which they have settled, the King is empowered to dispose of all military Employments not above that of Field-Marshal. The News of the Arrival of the British Fleet in the Sound has occasioned an universal Joy here.

Copenhagen, May 28. The last Advices which the Court have received from Major General Lewenohren at Stockholm, make us look upon the Peace with Sweden as good as concluded. The Cessation of Arms having been prolonged till the 4th of July, several Swedish Merchants are come over from Schonen, to buy divers Goods here. Last Week all the Roman Catholick Inhabitants of this Place were summoned to appear at the Town House before Commissaries, who told them in the King's Name, that it was his Majesty's Pleasure, that such of them as were married to Lutheran Husbands, or Wives, shall bring up their Children in the Communion of the Established Church. The King has likewise sent Orders to the Collonels of his Regiments, to send in exact Lists of all Roman Catholicks in his Majesty's military Service, on Penalty of losing their Commissions in case they conceal any of that Profession under their Command. The Chapel of the late Imperial Resident, M. Schmid, in which Mass had been performed since his Death, has been shut up by his Danish Majesty's Orders.

Vienna, May 22. The Prince of Lobcowitz, Collonel of a Regiment of Cuirassiers, who left the Imperial Camp in Sicily on the 6th Instant, arrived here on the 20th in the Morning, and having delivered his Dispatches from Count Mercy to Prince Eugene, he proceeded to Luxembourg, to acquint his Imperial Majesty, that his Army having marched from Alcamo towards Palermo, and gained several Advantages, the Marquess de Lede sent on the 2d to notify to the Imperial General, that he had received Orders from Madrid to treat not only for a Suspension of Arms, but also for the Evacuation of the two Kingdoms of Sicily and Sardinia; that Deputies having been appointed on the Part of the Emperour, of the King of Great Britain, and Spain, a Treaty was agreed upon, and signed accordingly on the 6th Instant, the Conditions of which, together with an Account of the military Operations of the Imperial Army till that Time, have been made publick here. The Aga of the Janizaries who attended the Turkish Ambassadour here, appears again. It was generally believed he had been drowned when he was going late at Night from an Entertainment to his Ship on the Danube: But it appears that he has lain concealed in a Monastery till the Ambassadour was gone, whom he did not care to attend back to Constantinople. Yesterday Mustapha Aga, the said Ambassadour's chief Interpreter, a Man already much in Years, arrived here from Buda, having left the Ambassadour on the Road; and as he offers to embrace the Christian Religion, it is thought a Pension will be procured to him from the Emperour during the remainder of his Days.

Mentz, May 29. The French Commissaries of the India Company having of late engaged not only many single Persons, but also whole Families of divers Religions in the Palatinate, and other neighbouring Parts of the Empire, and carried them to Haguenau in Alsatia, in order to their being transported to the Louisiana, Orders have been issued in in divers Countries of Germany against this Practice. The like has been done in several of the Swiss Cantons, particularly in the Territories of Berne, where great Numbers of People of both Sexes have listed themselves into the Service of the French India Company for a daily Allowance of Money.

Francfort, May 29. Last Week the Bishop of Munster paid a Visit to the Landgrave of Hesse-Cassel at Hersfeld, who received him with great Marks of Honour, and reviewed in the Bishop's Presence all his Forces which had been ordered thither for that purpose.

London, May 28.
